First Assistant Attorney General to Ask Republican Nomination for Attorney General

JOHNSON NOT TO RUN

Attorney General Confirms Statement He'll Not Again Seek That Office

George F. Shafer, first assistant attorney general, today announced that he would ask the Republican nomination for attorney general.

Attorney General Sveinbjorn Johnson confirmed the general understanding that he would not be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Johnson is chairman of the Democratic state central committee, and is understood to feel that he cannot enter into a fight which is likely to be chiefly in the Republican primary. Many friends have urged his candidacy for the supreme bench on a nonpartisan ballot.

Mr. Shafer came into the attorney general's office from Watford, following the recall election, from Watford City. He is a native of North Dakota, having been born in Stark county in territorial days, graduated from the University of North Dakota law school, began practicing law in Shafer in 1912 and has in the last few years maintained offices in Watford City, McKenzie county, and in Williston.

Defends on Convention.
Mr. Shafer's statement follows: "Inasmuch as my chief has decided not to become a candidate for re-election, I have concluded, in response to the encouragement of my friends throughout the state, to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general, subject, however, to the decision of the state-wide Republican convention. In my judgment, a proper regard for the best interests of the state at this time requires that any Republican candidate for state office, seeking the support of the independent voters, should be willing to submit his candidacy to the decision of the state-wide conference of representatives, to the end that the control of the state government by this administration may be assured, and no unnecessary risk of losing any nomination in the primaries, invited. I believe that the general policies of the Nestos administration should be approved and the officials supporting that administration returned to office this year, together with a legislature composed of the best talent which the state affords, pledged to a support of the laws consistent with the principles of sound government, an immediate reduction of the public tax burdens, and in the introduction of economy and efficiency in all departments of the state. To the accomplishment of this task, I would, in co-operation with the other state officials, wholeheartedly devote my energies and efforts, should the responsibilities of the attorney general's office be reposed in me."

Ask Johnson on High Court.
The boom of Mr. Johnson for the supreme bench was launched formally by 80 friends at Mountain, Pembina county, his home town. Resolutions were adopted as follows:

"Whereas, Sveinbjorn Johnson since his election as attorney general of the state of North Dakota has displayed exceptional ability and has brought to bear on the numerous and complicated problems of that office the powers of a well trained mind, his efforts meeting with the approval of the great majority of the people of the state; and
Whereas, the state of North Dakota is in need of just such a man on the supreme court of the state of North Dakota who is fearless and fair and whose heart is in sympathy with the great masses of the common people;

Now, therefore, we, his friends and neighbors of his boyhood days in the vicinity of Mountain, in the county of Pembina, who have known him as a boy on the farm and have watched with interest his steady advancement, hereby endorse Honorable Sveinbjorn Johnson for one of the three places on the supreme court of North Dakota to be elected this year.

PETITION FOR LAW'S APPEAL

Petitions Being Circulated on Teachers Bill

Petitions are being circulated asking for a repeal of the teachers minimum wage, or salary law, by popular vote at the June primary.

A copy of the petition being circulated was received at the office of the secretary of state yesterday afternoon, signed by a number of citizens of Medina and vicinity.

The petition asks for a direct repeal of the law.
The petitioners' committee is named as follows: J. P. Sundquist, W. E. Smith, Aneta; Martin Flom, McVie; A. E. Anderson, Charles Ellingson, O. N. Gregheim, of Sharon.

PRESIDENT OF DAIL EIREANN SENDS
GREETINGS TO AMERICAN PEOPLE

Dublin, Ireland, March 17.—Ireland greets America.

The new Ireland acknowledges and appreciates the steadfast sympathy and support she has received from the American people through all the years of struggle.

And she reaffirms the long-standing amity existing between the two countries.

On St. Patrick's Day last year Ireland was in the grip of terror, but she was sustained by the fundamental justice of her cause and by the sympathy of the people of the world and pre-eminently of the American people.

This year the terror is gone and Ireland takes control of her own destiny and place among the nations of the world.

The American people will now realize her faith in justice, and that Ireland was justified.

We have a great work before us to rebuild a nation oppressed for centuries.

We, the Irish people, take up the work joyfully.

Our friends in America will find that Ireland restored to the Irish people is also Ireland restored to the world.

The close friendship existing

between Ireland and America is built on love of right and justice.

Ireland stands for those ideals now as heretofore.

Friendship built upon these ideals is built upon enduring foundation.

MORTON LEAVES
DELEGATES FREE

Send Uninstructed Delegates to League State Convention

The Morton county Nonpartisan League convention, held in Mandan, decided to send an uninstructed delegation to Fargo to the state convention.

The delegation was uninstructed both as to the "balance of power" plan and the senatorship.

It was decided to put a county ticket in the field in Morton county.

WARNS MEMBERS ON ARMY CUT

Congressman Kahn Declares That is False Economy.

Washington, March 17.—Warning members of congress that "false economy" is the poorest kind of economy, Chairman Kahn of the house military affairs committee declared during consideration of the Army appropriation bill that a reduction in the size of the regular army to 115,000 enlisted men and 11,000 officers as proposed in the measure "would be altogether too drastic a cut at this time."

The California representative held that pay provision should be made for 150,000 men and 13,000 officers during the coming fiscal year as requested by the War Department.

YOUNG DODGE IS SENT TO JAIL

Detroit, March 17.—John Duval Dodge, millionaire son of the late John F. Dodge, automobile manufacturer, was sentenced to five days in the house of correction and fined $100 by Judge Charles L. Bartlett, in records court here today, when he admitted driving his automobile 23 miles an hour—three miles in excess of the speed limit. He was taken to jail.

Judge Bartlett also recommended that Dodge's driver license be revoked for a year.

Dodge's wife, who was in court, wept as sentence was passed on her husband.

H. A. THOMPSON

ARE SHOT DOWN

Protests Over Arrest of Indian Agitator Made and His Release Demanded

TROOPS CHARGE ON CROWD

Use Bayonets to Disperse Mob and Many Are Killed as Mob Advances

London, March 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Twenty natives were killed and 30 wounded at Nairobi, British East Africa, yesterday in fighting which followed demands over the arrest of the Indian agitator Thuku, says a Central News dispatch. Thuku was arrested Wednesday and the trouble immediately followed. One thousand natives assembled before the police station and demanded his release but they were dispersed by police who used bayonets.

Early yesterday further disturbances occurred. Mobs forced all Europeans to walk. The efforts of armed police to clear the streets failed.

When the situation became menacing the riot act was read, troops were brought in and as the mob advanced toward the police station the troops fired. Fifty of their number were cut down by the bullets and the remainder of the mob stampeded.

WHEAT STOCKS
ARE SMALLEST
IN MANY YEARS

Excepting in 1918 They Are Lowest of Any Year in Past Decade, U. S. Says

Washington, March 17.—The stocks of wheat in country mills and elevators March 1 were estimated at 72,555,000 bushels by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This is the smallest quantity in the record of reports for that date the past ten years, with the exception of March 1, 1918, when the abnormally low stocks of 66,000,000 bushels followed the small wheat crop of 1917.

Exports of wheat from the 1921 crop have been heavy and the country mills and elevators possessed only nine per cent of that crop. This is the smallest percentage in the same month for ten years, the highest record 16 per cent.

The average wheat stock in country mills and elevators were about 81,000,000 bushels during the past five years. Stocks were 20 per cent less than the five-year average.

MARK TIME ON BONUS BILL

Await Action of Speaker Gillette in Matter

Washington, March 17.—Both proponents and opponents of the plan to put the soldier's bonus bill through the house Monday under a suspension of the rules marked time today waiting the return here late today of Speaker Gillette, with whom rests the decision on this question.

Leaders said they had heard no direct word from the speaker as to his views on procedure other than that given them before he left for Florida with President Harding. They were expected to inform him at the conference here that a large majority of the house membership desired the bill taken up Monday under a plan that would cut off all amendments and even a motion to recommit.

The speaker is known to look on this plan with disfavor.

STRANGE SIGHT
SEEN IN SKY

Calico, Ill., March 17.—A strange figure appeared in the sky here last night.

Local people described it as a red hot poker and said it resembled a comet with a streaming tail of fire, although it had no head. Appearing about 9 o'clock it lit up the sky and cast the reflection northward. Later it was obscured by clouds and apparently disappeared.

BURLEIGH COUNTY LEAGUERS IN CONVENTION HERE
VOTE AGAINST PUTTING COUNTY TICKET IN FIELDDELEGATES OF LEAGUE TO GO
UNINSTRUCTED

Burleigh County Organization Takes This Action But Votes Against Townley Plan

NO TICKET IN THE COUNTY

Will Not Put Up Ticket For County Offices But May Put Up Legislative Ticket

An uninstructed delegation will go from Burleigh county to the Nonpartisan league state convention in Fargo, March 23.

It was decided at the county delegate convention held here yesterday afternoon in Patterson hall, which meeting continued until 11:30 o'clock last night, not to instruct the delegates. The delegates, however, emphatically declared against A. C. Townley's "balance of power" plan.

It was decided not to put a county ticket in the field in Burleigh county. The matter of a legislative ticket in Burleigh county was left for future action.

Test Note Early

The convention was made up of 28 delegates. About 20 precincts were not represented. Roads are almost impassable in some parts of the county, and this was ascribed as one reason for the small attendance. A large number of non-delegates brought the attendance at the convention up considerably.

A test vote on the "balance of power" plan was taken early in the convention. The delegates stood 23 to 5 against it. Later on another vote was taken and they stood 24 to 4 against it. The motion was simply for a "yes" and "no" vote on the matter.

No action was taken in favor of putting a full state ticket in the field. The delegates were uninstructed, because the delegates realized that conditions at the convention might be such as to make it inadvisable for the convention here to bind the delegates. It was stated by Fred Argast, chairman of the convention, and H. A. Thomas, secretary, the former for the "power" plan and the latter against it, that the delegates were free to act as they saw fit at the state convention without any binding action from this county convention.

Action on Courier-News

No action was taken on approval or disapproval of the course of the Liederbach majority of the state convention. It was said.

The county convention, however, went on record as favoring that the control of the Courier-News be vested in a "newly elected executive committee."

Delegates to the state convention are: H. A. Thomas, Driscoll; Fred Korn, McKenzie; Alfred Dehl, Bismarck; George Wallace, Bismarck. Alternates named are H. P. Knappen, Fred Argast, Joseph Coghlan.

A new county executive committee was elected composed of M. J. O'Connell, Ralph Madland, Mrs. Charles G. Bolse.

The meeting was held behind closed doors.

There was no discussion as to Senator McCumber or A. J. Gronna, it was said. Some delegates wanted to instruct the delegates for former Governor Frazier for senator but it was decided this would be tying the hands of the delegates and the motion did not go to a vote.

LABOR LEADER IS ARRESTED

South African Authorities Take Action as Strike Result

Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, March 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Joe Thompson, president of the augmented executive board of the South African Industrial Federation has been arrested in connection with the mine strike. The rebels' leader, Fisher, and Endif, who were found dead in Trades hall at Fordsburg, after the bombardment of the city by government forces, committed suicide, according to an official statement. Their bodies bore shrapnel wounds but it is thought these came after their death.

ROTARIANS ARE FIRM BELIEVERS
IN COOPERATION

Stotzer Declares Member Who Does Not Cooperate With Competitors Is Ethically Recreant

Duluth, Minn., March 17.—Norman Black of Fargo, who elected district Governor of the 15th district Rotary conference today by acclamation.

Oscar Stotzer, Milwaukee, nominated him. They moved the nomination be closed and it was so done in a unanimous cheer.

Mr. Black assumed office May 1.

Duluth, Minn., March 17.—The old saying, "Competition is the life of trade" has long since proved a fallacy and modern business demonstrates that co-operation is the lifeblood of trade and that competition is merely the necessary tonic, declared Oscar F. Stotzer, president of the Milwaukee Rotary club, in his address, "The Spirit of Rotary—The Living Force," before the closing session of the annual district conference here today.

"Aligning itself closely with trade association movements, Rotary realizes that we are living in a day and age of co-operation in which men working together for any common result can raise standards, enforce laws and prevent unfair practices," asserted the speaker. "The Rotarian who today does not co-operate with his competitors towards these ends is ethically recreant."

"All that we need in business today is a few good practical, common sense rules that will help to keep up the standards of practice and help to elevate them to a still higher plane."

"Regardless of what conditions in business life may have been in days past and gone, there has been a tremendous change in the modern man's attitude toward his own business, his competitor and his responsibility to the community."

"So also the old doctrine of Caveat Emptor, the Latin for 'Let the Buyer Beware,' is also fast losing its significance in these days of publicity and rapid transactions. Big business is impossible if allied with humbug and deceit or misrepresentation."

"Every man will take care" said Ralph Waldo Emerson, "that his neighbor does not cheat him, but a day comes when he begins to care that he does not cheat his neighbor." Then all will be well.

"In addition to his homely philosophy that carries with it an injunction against lying, stealing and bearing false witness against his neighbor, Rotary insists that he shall prescribe to positive ethical standards that relate to the welfare of the whole community, that require the exercise of true public spirit. Therefore, honesty alone cannot be regarded as the sole necessary virtue in business today."

"Service above self" is not only a motto not only of the lips but also of the hearts of all true Rotarians and the result is, "He profits most who serves best."

"Friendship, love, business, government, religious all have service as their basis; service mutually given and mutually received if profits accrue. Regardless of its shape, form or character, it is service only that is sold by the laborer or the genius, by the manufacturer, the merchant or the banker. The product of brawn or brain is but service crystallized."

Duluth, March 17.—Declaring that he was trying, with the help of fellow Rotarians to make North Dakota worthy of the confidence of the nation, Governor R. A. Nestos of North Dakota, in an impromptu address before the annual fifteenth district Rotary conference here late yesterday brought the 1,700 delegates to their feet with the result that pandemonium reigned for several minutes. The convention got back to business after a song one verse of the Star Spangled Banner.

Governor Nestos is a member of the Minut delegation and as head of committees on public affairs, was called upon to make a short talk.

FIRST RETURNS SHOW AGAINST TOWNLEY IDEA

Many Delegations Vote Against Plan But Leave Their Delegates Uninstructed

SILENT ON SENATORSHIP

Few Counties Take Any Action Favorable to Any Possible Candidate For Senate

Fargo, March 17.—A. C. Townley's "balance of power" plan failed of approval in any of the Nonpartisan league county conventions yet reported, according to reports available from about 28 of the 53 counties in the state, according to a survey made today by the Fargo Forum.

Indications are that fully 75 delegates out of the 207 that will come to Fargo for the state convention March 23 will have instructions to oppose the Townley plan.

In one county, Nelson, delegates were instructed to seek endorsement of Gronna as league candidate for United States Senator and in Cavalier, Grand Forks and Morton counties some sentiment for Mr. Gronna was apparent in the meeting. With apparent rejection of Mr. Townley's plan whereby the league would have abandoned its old policy of naming tickets it is apparent that it is likely that the state convention will be strongly divided on the question of action on a senatorial candidate. Lynn J. Frazier's name was mentioned in some counties.

The group of delegates instructed to oppose the balance of power plan include the following: Courtes; Barnes, Cass, Steele, Williams, Adams, Ramsey, La Moure, Richland, Nelson, Griggs and Traill.

Delegates from nine other counties will come without instructions but with a record vote of their county conventions by which their counties are opposed to the same in policy. These are Kidder, Foster, Grand Forks, Burleigh, Sargent, Morton, Wells and Bddy.

In Ward county sentiment was divided on the "balance of power" issue. Delegates were not instructed. Some sentiment toward endorsing A. J. Gronna for nomination for United States senator was expressed but no action taken.

Cass county delegates, meeting in Fargo, went against the "balance of power" plan and instructed the 12 delegates to work against it. The convention also went on record as endorsing the majority of the state committee headed by A. H. Liederbach, commended the action started by leaders to secure title of the Courier-News and recommended that the proceeds from the collection of post-date checks and the membership fees be used to pay off the obligations of the league in North Dakota.

The Benson county convention instructed its delegates to vote with the majority at the state convention. The meeting went on record against the balance of power plan and endorsed Senator W. J. Church to succeed him self in the state senate.

The Steele and Traill county delegations were reported as having opposed the "balance of power" plan. The Grand Forks delegation will go to the convention uninstructed.

Reports received in Bismarck from the Kidder county convention show record as opposing the "balance of power" plan and reports were received that a number of other counties in the western part of the state also opposed it.

SEED BILL TO BE PASSED

The seed and feed appropriation bill in which western North Dakota and eastern Montana is so deeply interested will be passed in the national congress, according to a message received in Bismarck from Congressman J. H. Sinclair. The message said that committee of both houses had agreed to make the appropriation $1,500,000 and to make the money immediately available. Definite action is expected within two or three days.

VENDETTA CLAIMS
ITS 27th VICTIM

Chicago, March 17.—The Italian vendetta which followed the murder several months ago of Paul Labroni, municipal court bailiff and 19th ward leader, last night claimed its 27th victim. The victim was identified as Angelo Gonna, recently acquitted after a murder trial as the man was shot him, police said.

London, March 17.—What is planned as the world's largest auditorium seating 50,000 to 100,000 people will be constructed here. The site ready has been bought for nearly $5,000,000. The building, it is believed, will cost another $5,000,000.

RISK BUREAU'S RATES WILL GO BEFORE COURT

Suits Started By Compensation Bureau To Collect Premiums From Corporations

MANY FIRMS INVOLVED

A test of the legality of the workmen's compensation bureau's rates and premiums will be made in a suit to be heard in the Burleigh county district court, probably March 20, in which the compensation bureau seeks to compel the Hughes Electric Company of Bismarck, the Bismarck Gas Company and the Beulah Coal Mining Company to pay premiums levied against them.

Practically every phase of the matter of rates and premiums and powers of the bureau in that regard will be made in the suit. It is not expected that the constitutionality of the entire act will be involved.

The effort of the bureau to collect the premiums is resisted by the companies in an answer submitted by Attorneys O'Hare and Cox. The defendants ask that the complaint be dismissed and that judgment be granted in favor of the defendant.

Position of Defendants

Among the allegations made by the defendant in the suit are:

"That the rates fixed by the Workmen's Compensation Bureau for the various classes of employment used by the defendant are unjust, illegal and unreasonable and not fixed and determined in accordance with the provisions of the Workmen's compensation Act, for the reason that no effort has been made, no information obtained or required from and by which the Workmen's Compensation Bureau could or did determine the hazard, if any, connected with or resulting from the employment by the defendant of its employees.

"That the defendants have reduced through various means the number of accidents in the same class of employment throughout the state.

"That in fixing the rates and the premium the bureau did not take into consideration the number of employees whose wages made up the total estimated payroll of the defendants although the compensation act fixes the liability of the compensation fund upon a basis of a certain proportion of each injured individual's wage.

"That the bureau did not fix the rates and premiums in accordance with law.

"Admits that employees are engaged in hazardous occupation except as to office employees, and denies a hazard exists there.

"That the workmen's compensation bureau has no authority to fix or make rules insofar as they provide for an initial rating surcharge on the defendants."

The bureau's suit was filed several months ago. It is said that many employers have not paid premiums. The bureau holds that it is unfair to employers who pay the premiums for others not to, and say it is one reason for the complaints of high rates.

JUDGE COFFEY FAVORS PUBLIC RETRENCHMENT

Declares State Has Too Many Bureaus, Commissioners, Agents, Employees, Etc.

Jamestown, N. D., March 16.—Commenting on high taxes and the necessity for public retrenchment, Judge J. A. Coffey, in an article in the Jamestown Alert, says that "in this new agricultural state, a simple system of laws is better than the complex system in older states. We have too many state bureaus, commissions, commissioners, agents, servants and employees. They are expensive, have greatly increased our taxes, and serve little purpose—not enough to justify their existence," declares the judge.

Regarding the initiated measures proposed by Judge Robinson, Judge Coffey says:

"The statutes require that a committee of five shall be named to act for the petitioners. My name appears as one of the committee of five. I desire to state that it is so used without my consent. However, I say that in my judgment some of the proposed bills are meritorious. A repeal, as sought, of some of these laws would effect a great reduction in taxes and not in any manner impair the state government or any subdivision of it.

LODGE HONORS VETERAN CLASS BY JEWEL GIFT

St. Elmo Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Awards Veterans Badge for 25 Years

MANY ATTEND BANQUET

A class of Pythian veterans—men who have been members of the Knights of Pythias order continuously for 25 years—was honored last night at a banquet at St. Elmo lodge No. 4 in the Grand Pacific hotel. The veteran members were presented with jeweled emblematic of their faithful membership and service in the order. The class of 1922, Pythian Veterans, is composed of John M. Belk, Robert L. Best, Frank Harris, Robert D. Hoskins, Charles T. Staley, Edmond A. Hughes, Joseph Katz, Duncan J. McGinnis.

Herbert F. O'Hare presided as toastmaster. The past, present and future of St. Elmo lodge were topics for various speakers, while others spoke of the principles of the order, its relation to the home, society and to young manhood. Grand Chancellor J. L. Bowers, of Mandan, spoke of the future of the order and the duty of the members.

Robert L. Best reviewed the history of St. Elmo lodge. Reference was made to the files of the Bismarck Daily Tribune for April, 1884, which gave the information that St. Elmo lodge, Knights of Pythias, was organized April 23, 1885 under a dispensation from Supreme Chancellor van Valkenberg. C. M. Dahl, of Bismarck, was one of the original officers of the local lodge.

Mr. Best told of the high place St. Elmo lodge had occupied in Pythianism in the state at various times, of the long trips made to Washburn, Wilton and other towns before the days of present methods of rapid transportation to institute lodges.

August Carlson spoke of the efforts of the younger members of the lodge to carry forward the work in the same high spirit that animated the founders of the lodge. The speech of presentation to the class of veterans was made by Francis H. Register and response on behalf of the veterans was made by Captain John M. Belk, long a faithful member of the order, who emphasized its high principles. William A. Falconer spoke on the relation of the lodge to the home. George T. Humphreys on its relation to society and George N. Keniston on its relation to young manhood.

Judge Andrew Miller was present at the banquet and spoke briefly before being called away on court matters. E. A. Hughes, one of the class of veterans, telegraphed greetings from Minneapolis, saying he was detained on business.

"REDS" RUNNING LEAGUE PAPERS - LIEDERBACH

Chairman Assails Some Editors of Western North Dakota League Papers

Many Nonpartisan league editors in the western part of the state who are opposing the present majority of the league state executive committee are bitterly attacked by Chairman A. H. Liederbach in the Courier-News of yesterday.

Mr. Liederbach applies the word much used by anti-leaguers two or three years ago and which was almost a signal for a fight. He calls them "reds."

In the course of a long attack upon Editor Olaf Ribb, of the Ward County Farmers Press, Mr. Liederbach says: "A part of the present balance of power conspiracy to destroy the democratic form of government of the Nonpartisan League in North Dakota, which The Courier-News and the State Executive committee has hitherto ignored, is the campaign of vilification, slander and lies being indulged in by a number of editors of Nonpartisan weekly newspapers in the western end of the state. The purpose of this is plain. It is to offset, as much as possible, the effect of the exposures made by the Courier-

News of the scheme to dislodge the men elected to conduct the affairs of the organization and to replace them with the old self-appointed kaiserism, with all its crookedness, graft and wasteful extravagance.

"Hence, lest silence be considered to be a granting of assent to the fabrications issued by these editors, who for the most part are reds and in sympathy with the little red soviet plan of government, the lucubrations of one such will be taken up and analyzed here for the benefit of all real Leaguers, and a complete showing made concerning the utter falsity of certain assertions made in defense of the balance of power plan, and of that deft mingling of truth and falsehood, at which such reds seem to be so adept and to which they seem to be peculiarly addicted."

WHAT PASSING OF McNARY BILL MEANS TO N. D.

Claimed That Sugar Beet Industry Would be Developed On a Large Scale

STATEMENT BY ENGINEERS

Irrigation Would Also Mean The Production of Much Alfalfa For Winter Feed

That the McNary Bill, which was favorably reported to congress on March 7th, if passed would mean the development of the sugar beet industry in North Dakota on a large scale, as the result of irrigation is the belief of the State Engineer's office, as expressed in a statement issued today.

This bill provides for the appropriation of $370,000,000 for the reclamation of arid, swamp and cut-over lands as recommended by President Harding in his message to congress.

North Dakota's share of such an appropriation would be no small sum. There are over 200,000 acres of land along the Missouri River in North Dakota that can be economically irrigated by pumping. The development of sugar beet culture in connection with alfalfa is a very promising feature. The production of alfalfa for winter feed for dairy cows will be a great industry in itself.

"The Missouri River ranks first in size of all the streams flowing through the arid and semi-arid states of the west. The Colorado River ranks second and the Columbia River third, says the statement of the state engineers.

"The development of these two lesser streams has been planned on an enormous scale," continues the statement, "while on the waters of the Missouri, which represent the greatest source of supply, development has scarcely begun."

"The Missouri River flows through North Dakota for 406 miles and in that distance falls 305 feet or about nine inches per mile. Unfortunately, the construction of dams along its course in North Dakota is not feasible owing to the lack of stable foundation.

Survey Made in 1891

"In 1891 the U. S. Geological survey made a survey of the divide between Fort Stephenson and Minot for the purpose of finding a way of diverting the Missouri River by means of a canal over the divide.

"The lowest point found in this divide is 290 feet above the Missouri River at the Montana State Line and the project was not considered feasible at that time.

"The Missouri river at Fort Stephenson is 130 feet above the city of Minot and 200 feet above the Mouse River at Velva.

"A barrier about twenty miles wide and 300 feet high separates these two streams. The possibility of tunneling this ridge has been suggested at various times in the past.

"While no insuperable engineering problem would be involved by such a project, its feasibility could be determined only by the extension of topographical maps such as have been made by the U. S. Geological Survey in other sections of the state.

"The U. S. Geological survey is now cooperating with 31 states in making surveys of this character and the lack of funds for this purpose precludes the possibility of North Dakota taking advantage of this opportunity.

"There are several long tunnels in course of construction in the United States at the present time. The city of New York is constructing a tunnel 18 miles in length in order to bring an additional supply of water into one of the reservoirs of its water supply system.

67 Miles of Tunnel

"Likewise on the other side of the continent the city of San Francisco has planned the construction of 67 miles of tunnel as a part of the Hetch-Hetchy system which will supply electric current generated from water power to the extent of 200,000 horse power as well as a water supply sufficient to serve the city of San Francisco during the present century. One section of the tunnel 18 1/2 miles in length is now under construction.

"On the Columbia River Basin project which is now being reported on by General Goethals a 15 1/2 mile tunnel is being considered as a part of the diversion system.

"It is quite possible that by thinking in terms of tunnels rather than dams that the problem of diverting the Missouri River in North Dakota will be solved. Under any condition the possibility of diversion by this means deserves the most careful consideration."

AT THE THEATERS

CAPITOL

Larry Semon, the Vitaphone comedy king, had one of the most modern and thoroughly up to date bakeries built, and fully equipped in the Vitaphone Hollywood studio for "The Bakery," a comedy, which will be shown at the Capitol theater tonight. To get atmosphere for the scenes which take place in this palace of culinary art, Semon engaged half a dozen real bakers and used over twenty-four barrels of flour in making a big vat of dough, which was later used for some of the slap-stick action.

The picture opens with a panoramic view of the bakery, showing the bakers mixing dough, kneading the bread, cutting it in loaves and preparing it for the ovens. In one corner of the room several bags of flour are seen, and the as spectator looks hands pile more flour upon the bags. The patron of the theater does not need to be told that this is Larry Semon. He is easily identified. This is the way Larry makes his entrance in this funny comedy.

The comedian has not forgotten his usual number of thrills with comic twists, his pretty girls, his trained animals and his barrel of surprises.

Viola Dana in her latest five part feature, "Glass Houses" will also be shown.

RIALTO

"Eden and Return," in which Doris May scores again as an R.C. star in a Hunt Stromberg production is the current feature at the Rialto Theater. It introduces Miss May in just the sort of role for which she is best equipped, and she gives a performance which, for all-round skill, marks her as an artist second to none in her own particular field—that of light comedy and smart farce.

The photoplay itself reveals not only good taste in the selection of the story material and refinement in production, but it makes entertainment of the most engrossing sort. It is crammed with laughs. It sizzles with pointed humor. It is rich in human interest and the delicious touch of romance woven through the fabric of the narrative will appeal to everybody who likes a love story well told—and who doesn't?

THE ELTINGE

"Molly O" is not only an emotional dramatic offering, but a melodrama as well, in which the villains are confounded, in which the hero licks the villain barehanded, and which concludes with a thrilling aeroplane chase after a fleeing blimp. The action runs from broad comedy to the deepest pathos; from a supper to the temptations to a grand ball in the most fashionable hotel in the city. None of the good characters are really angels and the story is very human. Mabel Normand easily carries away the honors but it is chiefly because she has the greatest variety to do for every player, and there are many of them, establishes a high mark of ability. Jack Mulhall makes a really handsome lover, and as a vamp, Jacqueline Logan was a new and more pleasant style. George Nichols as Tim O'Dair and Anna Hernandez as Mrs. O'Dair portray a married couple whose counterparts can be found almost anywhere. Albert Hackett, Eddie Gribbon, Ben Deely, Gloria Davenport, Carl Stockdale and Eugene Bessner are others in a big cast that deserve mention for agreeable performances. "Molly O" is being shown at the Eltinge for the last times today, Friday.

SECOND STARK COUNTY CASE IS DISMISSED

Indictment Against Simpson, Hartung, Boxrud is Held To Be Defective

INDIAN IS CONVICTED

The second indictment against Leslie Simpson, Dickinson attorney; Ted Hartung, former sheriff of Stark county, and A. B. Boxrud, former Northern Pacific conductor, of Dickinson, charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice, was held bad in federal court today by Federal Judge Miller. He sustained the demurrer of the defendants.

The case was the outgrowth of alleged efforts of the defendants to obstruct justice by inducing two men indicted by the government to enter military service.

Judge Miller ruled on three points. He held the indictment sound as to defendants' allegation that it failed to allege the crime was committed in three years before filing of the indictment.

He held it defective in that it failed to set forth means by which the defendants were alleged to have conspired and that the overt acts alleged could not substantiate the crime of conspiracy. The court said he did not feel that any allegations in the indictment claimed that if the defendants carried out the acts they were accused of that it would impede justice, that there was no showing that if the men were in the military service at Camp Custer they could not be brought back when needed.

An indictment charging the defendants with obstructing justice was dismissed a few days ago.

Sent to Prison.

Joseph Horncloud, an Indian, who has been held in the Burleigh county jail for months, was sentenced to Leavenworth prison for a year and a day. He was found guilty of shooting at another Indian. Judge Miller said that the sentence was given more for the purpose of placing Horncloud where he would have proper care than for punishment. Horncloud's counsel having said that although he was 33 years old he had the mentality of a boy.

A demurrer was filed to the indictment against Alan H. White, Morton county postmaster, charged with embezzling $3,161. Judge Miller sustained the demurrer. The assistant district attorney said that the omission was an error in typewriting. White was ordered held and the grand jury was to be asked to indict him again.

The trial of Paul Chapman, an Indian, charged with dispensing liquor to another Indian, was being tried this morning.

The grand jury has about finished its work and may report within a day or so.

Nash Model Displays By Lahr Motor Sales Co., Big Drawing Card

"Last Monday when we announced our grand opening for today, tomorrow and Sunday, showing Nash models, we did not expect the public to begin coming in to see these cars until at least Friday morning," said Mr. Lahr of the Lahr Motor Sales company. "However, on Tuesday morning, before we were able to get some of the newly arrived models into our building, people began coming in, inquiring for this or that model. All week there has been a steady stream of automobile enthusiasts into our Show Room, although not until this morning did we have the full line of Nash cars on display."

Referring further to the Nash Grand Opening being staged by this firm today, Saturday and Sunday, Mr. Lahr said: "Although we have represented the Nash factory for over a year, this is the first time we have had the various models in stock at one time. We are greatly pleased with the interest shown in Nash cars—especially the Nash Four. It seems that the public has been waiting for a really life-sized, easy-riding quality automobile at around a thousand dollars, and when they see this Nash Four with its stream line body, easy riding qualities, and powerful valve-in-head motor at $985.00, they immediately appreciate this wonderful value. Then there is the Sport Model with its smart lines and the Nash Six—all exceptional values."

"We feel, now that we have dovetailed the Nash line in with the Overland and Willys-Knight, we are in a position to reach buyers in the various price classes with real values backed by exceptional service. Results certainly bear this out for we have averaged a sale every day for the last eight days."

Madalynne's Fate In Jury's Hands

Los Angeles Calif., March 17.—Asa Keyes, deputy district attorney, today was expected to close the final argument in the trial of Madalynne Oberchain.

Upon Keyes' conclusion Judge S. N. Reeve was expected to read his instructions to the jury and the belief was expressed that the case would be given into the hands of the nine men and three women jurors by noon.

LEGAL OPINION CLOSES ACTION ON MANDAN ROAD

States Attorney Tells Burleigh County Board it Can't Spend Money Across the River

ISSUE IS HELD CLOSED

F. E. McGurdy, state's attorney, submitted an opinion to the board of county commissioners of Burleigh county in which he said that Burleigh county had no more right to spend money building a road from the west end of the Missouri river bridge to Mandan "than to build a road from Flasher to Mandan."

The opinion, given Feb. 11, was not made public because of the desire of the Burleigh county board to avoid any public controversy with the Morton county board, or do anything to prevent an early settlement of the bridge problem. It was not until after a bitter attack had been made on the Burleigh county authorities in Mandan last week that the controversy was brought into the open.

The Burleigh county authorities and others anxious to see the bridge completed at an early date have hoped that a quick and amicable adjustment might be made of all problems.

Opinion of Attorney.

The opinion of the state's attorney follows:

"In accordance with your verbal request for an opinion as to the legal rights of Burleigh county to appropriate money from its county road fund for the purpose of building a road from the west end of the Missouri river bridge to Mandan in accordance with a letter stating that the engineers have determined that the road over the bottom is a part of the bridge, I will say that in my opinion the road over the bottom is not a part of the bridge. The road over the bottom from the bridge to Mandan is several miles in length, is over land surveyed, owned by private individuals, farmed in agricultural projects, and differs in no way from any other real property located in Morton county. The only difference is that occasionally when the Missouri river overflows its banks water sometimes backs up and floods some of this land for a few days. Otherwise it is exactly the same as any other farm land in Morton county. And in my judgment the board of county commissioners of Burleigh county has no more authority to expend money building that road than one from Flasher to Mandan. Furthermore from examination as to the condition of the county finances it appears that all the appropriations which can be made from our county road fund for the current year have already been made and the money expended, so that there will be no funds available and no funds from which the indebtedness could be paid.

"Therefore, it is my opinion that the board of county commissioners has no authority as a matter of law to participate in any such contract as is outlined in a letter from the State Highway Commission."

ENGINEERS INTERESTED IN ROAD BILL

Interest among engineers of the city concerning the proposed good roads legislation runs high following the discussion of this subject at the meeting of the North Dakota Chapter of the American Association of Engineers held here last week.

Consideration is being given to the analysis of the objections that are offered against both the amendment and highway measures to be initiated for the fall election. The object of further deliberation among engineers is to formulate the proper answers or replies to all objections raised or that may be raised against the good roads programs, so that in their contact with public officials and people generally they may render valuable assistance in the campaign of the State Good Roads Association to pass the new highway legislation.

A mock county board meeting has been suggested as a means of arousing interest in the discussion and to

RESERVE STOCK OF CEREALS IS FOUND SMALLER

Federal Statistician Reports Lesser Amount on Farms in North Dakota

CARRY OVER OF WHEAT

Report Also Made Upon Farm Land Sales Values and Survey on Cash Rentals

Grand Forks, N. D., March 17.—The March crop report of the U. S. bureau of markets and crop estimates for North Dakota follows:

Information received indicates that the reserve of stock of cereal crops on farms in North Dakota March 1, 1922, was relatively small as compared with other recent years. There is one exception, however, which is the corn crop. It appears as if the present supply of corn is slightly larger than other recent years, but the total reserve of this crop is rather unimportant in actual bushels. The factors which have caused this condition were the heavy demand for feed, especially during the latter half of the winter, while the need of money has compelled heavy reduction of wheat.

The 1921 oat crop was considerably below the average crop to begin with, and the heavy feeding demands seem to have reduced the present reserve to less than the usual carry over on farms March 1. Likewise, the barley crop was less than the average for 1921. Feed requirements and other demands have reduced the present supply to a comparatively low point. The situation in the United States as a whole on March 1, 1922, indicates that the National reserve of corn, oats, and barley was materially below the usual reserve. It would be observed that the carry over of corn was approximately 6 per cent less than one year ago, while it is 5.2 per cent greater than the 1920 reserve. There is one outstanding feature in this report as regards corn. It is this, that never in recent years was the quality so high, 87.5 per cent of the entire crop being merchantable.

Carry Over of Wheat
The National carry over of wheat was 5.8 per cent below that of one year ago, although this year's carry over was 2.7 per cent greater than the carry over of 1920. However, the National crop was so much larger in 1919 that the March 1, 1920 carryover was considerably greater in actual bushels than the present reserve.

Similar to the above crops, the present reserve of oats is noticeably below the average, being 7.6 per cent less than one year ago, but 3.5 per cent greater than the 1920. The 1919 production, however, had been so very much larger that the present stock on farms is very much below the carry over of that year.

The reserve of barley in the United States on March 1, was 7.4 per cent below that of one year ago. The 1920 reserve was less than the present amount on farms by some seven million bushels or 4.2 per cent. The present stock, however, is much below the usual reserve of this crop.

Information secured indicates that the decline in farm land values experienced in other states has also struck North Dakota but in a minor way compared with the states to the south and east, especially less violently than in the so-called "corn belt states." The present value of poor plow lands was placed at $25.00 per acre. This is $6.00 below the previous high point reached, but it is only $6.00 an acre less than the valuation of one year ago on this class of land. Similarly, the average for good plow lands indicated a present valuation of $44.00 per acre, which is $5.00 below that of one year ago, and this is also true of all plow lands which were placed at $37.00 per acre.

Survey of Rentals
At the time this survey was made, a query was also made in regards to the cash rentals paid for different classes of farms. This practice, that is cash rentals, was very uncommon in North Dakota, so little attention was given this query by the reporters. However, sufficient information was secured to indicate that the average cash rental for farms per acre was approximately $2.25, while the cash rental paid for plow lands alone was placed at $2.75. The higher prices were paid in the east one-half of the State, while the lower rentals prevailed in the western half. The highest rentals were paid in the Northeast, East, and Southeast districts of the State, while the lowest rentals prevailed in the Southwest and South Central districts.

BEING A PRINCESS BORED HER—SO DOROTHY DEACON IS PLAIN AMERICAN GIRL AGAIN

By NEA Service
Rome, March 17.—Will the moving finger of romance ever cease writing this fusion in the story of the Deacon family?

What will be the next chapter in the lives of those beautiful Americans—the Deacon girls?

The Sacred Rota tribunal of the Vatican recently annulled the marriage of Prince Albert Radziwill to Dorothy Deacon.

Just as Gladys Deacon has become the Duchess of Marlborough, Dorothy discards her title of princess and becomes a plain Miss Deacon again.

Opposed Match
Princess Radziwill, mother of Prince Albert, always opposed the match. Another who opposed it is said to have been the beautiful 17-year-old Dorothy, herself. But Prince Albert was madly infatuated.

Dorothy Deacon, youngest of four beautiful girls, was a small child when her mother appeared one night and took her away from the French convent where she and her sister were being educated. The girl scarcely understood the tragedy which had befallen her.

Her father, Edward Parker Deacon, son of the distinguished Boston family, had shot and killed M. Abelle, a Frenchman, reported to be in love with his beautiful wife.

All this Deacon girls chose to go with their mother, who took the name of Mrs. Florence Baldwin, being a daughter of the rich American naval officer—later Admiral Baldwin. In the Borghese palace at Rome and in the decaying magnificence of the Farnese palace at Capranza "Dolly" Deacon was given ample opportunity to imbibe the princely spirit.

Yet when Roman society became agog over the determination, as they said, of Mrs. Florence Baldwin, to marry Dorothy to the infatuated prince—Dorothy said "No."

Once in London the marriage guests had to leave the church disappointed, but a week later Dorothy appeared and the ceremony took place.

Shocked Nobility
Princess Radziwill was shocked at the marriage, shocked at the unprincely conduct of the young American girl. For Dorothy's offenses were that she whistled in those stately halls.

Think of it! Then she shocked Roman nobility by appearing at a ball in a small chariot drawn by two leopards!

Over a year ago Mrs. Florence Baldwin died, and as though to give credence to the rumor that she had used Dorothy into the marriage the suit for annulment was instituted.

Rumor has it that Dorothy was just bored to death at being a princess.

STATE BONDING DEPT. LOSES ONLY $5,000

Total Losses Paid in Four Years $16,220.59, But $11,054.88 Has Been Recovered

In the four years of its active existence, North Dakota's state bonding department has lost but $5,000 through the defalcation of persons whose honesty it had assured, according to the recent report of S. A. Olness, commissioner of insurance, and Harold Hopton, manager of the state bonding department. The total losses paid in the years since the department commenced operation stand at $16,220.59. Recovery has been made, however, of $11,054.88, making the total loss of the department $5,165.71.

In the report, the earnings of the department, since opening, are listed at $155,016.79 and the total operating cost is placed at $10,219.98. Of the earnings, $109,361.42 has been listed as surplus and $30,269.68 as unearned premium reserve.

The earnings of the bond department are given as $67,081.38 for the combined years of 1918 and 1919, $54,010.58 for 1920 and $34,624.33 in 1921. The operating cost of the department is given as $3,892.34 for the first two years, $2,934.65 for 1920 and $3,392 for 1921.

The amount of bonds in force at the end of 1921 was announced as $15,082,650.

SIX BOOKS WRITTEN IN SECRET BY OCTOGENERIAN GRANDMOTHER

By NEA Service
Washington, Feb. 24.—An octogenarian grandmother, on the verge of publishing six books!

Such is Mrs. Francois Berger Moran, wealthy society dowager of Washington, D. C.

"Twin Souls," a novel which is being brought out by a Boston publishing company, is the first of the six that is to appear. It has also been accepted in scenario.

"If one really does things one is before the public eye; and if one does not do things, one is useless." This is the keynote to Mrs. Moran's charitable and social activities, as well as her literary efforts.

At the age of 15 she wrote "Little Buttercup," which was published in serial form under the nom de plume Frank Fairley.

Her father, a true Virginian, on learning of the enterprise of his daughter Jeanne, emphatically forbade any further writing by her.

Surprisedly writing, of course, was the result. From 10 to 12 each morning her quill flew.

"Broken Idols," a two-volume novel, which she calls her life work, was one of the outcomes of this secret writing.

One of her books, written 30 years ago, is built wholly on eugenics.

"When I meet people I look for the good in them. Some look for dust amongst the diamonds; I look for diamonds in the dust," Mrs. Moran says.

G. A. Malcolm Wins Degree of Hogaku Hakase

Tokio, March 17.—(By Mail)—Professor G. A. Malcolm of the Philippine university, has gone on record as the first foreigner who has won the Japanese degree of Hogaku Hakase, or Doctor of Law, for his essays on the comparison of the Constitution in the Philippine and the Western Powers.

Professor Malcolm presented to the authorities of the Imperial Board of Academy his essays in question last summer, together with his other works on the subject covering some ten volumes, with an application for the Japanese scholarship title. The application has been considered favorably by the authorities of the Board.

Face-Slapping Stops Women's Football Game

Paris, Mar. 17.—The two leading female football clubs of Paris, the Femina Sports and the En Avant, were contesting the championship of the city and at half time each side had scored a goal. When play was resumed, the pace was very hot and a forward of the En Avant team slapped the face of an opponent whom she accused of a foul. The referee sent the aggressor from the field but her comrade sided with her and refused to continue the game. The referee gave the game in favor of the Femina Sport.

WOMEN AND MEDICINE
In Europe, years ago, a woman named Hildegard wrote a notable book on medicinal plants. In those days the men were too busy bothering about dogmas of religion and medicine.

DYE BLOUSE OR BABY'S COAT IN DIAMOND DYES

"Diamond Dyes" add years of wear to worn, faded skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, hangings, draperies, everything. Every package contains directions so simple any woman can put new, rich, fadeless colors into her worn garments or draperies even if she has never dyed before. Just buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then your material will come out right, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods. Adv.

and the study of herbs was thought beneath their notice.

It was the women, however, who mostly conducted the hospitals and cared for the sick and thus they learned much of great value. They let the men fight out the questions of theories.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, prepared almost fifty years ago by a woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, did then and does now relieve the ailments peculiar to women. It is a vegetable compound and of great value for this purpose. This is proven day after day, and in your own neighborhood, by grateful women who have used it.

MAY ANNUL MARRIAGE OF YOUNG COUPLE

New York, March 17.—Annulment may be sought in the marriage at Milford, Conn., last week of Geneva Mitchell, 17-year-old Broadway chorus girl to Robert Savage, 20, wealthy school boy, preparing for Yale. S. W. Rice, the girl's grandfather, stated that her mother, Mrs. Vera Mitchell, probably would start an action this week to have the ceremony set aside.

ESSAY CONTEST OPEN TO EVERY STATE IN U. S.

Subject Will Be "How Good Roads Have Helped My Community"

Grand Forks, N. D., March 16.—Announcement of the rules for a second essay writing contest between the children of the different states has been made here by A. H. Yoder, who, as head of the extension department of the state university, has been asked to take local charge of the contest in North Dakota. The national contest is under the direction of the Highway and Highway Transport Education committee of Washington, D. C., and the winner of the prize for the best essay written in the United States will receive the expenses of a four years' college education at any school the winner may choose.

The contest is open to any high school student in North Dakota, public as well as private schools being included. The subject is, "How Good Roads Have Helped My Community," and the length of the essay cannot be more than 700 words.

Essays from the students must be in the hands of the high school teachers in seven weeks, or by May 1st. The teachers will select the three best essays from each high school and forward them to the Extension division of the state university. At the university, a committee headed by A. D. Keator, University librarian, will select the ten best essays and these ten essays will be presented to a final judging committee, whose members are President John Lee Coulter of the North Dakota Agricultural college, Fred R. Mann of Devils Lake, president of the North Dakota Retail Merchants' association, Julius Bacon of the Grand Forks Herald, and Will E. Holbein of Bismarck, secretary of the North Dakota Good Roads association.

W. D. HAYWOOD HEADS I. W. W. MEN IN RUSSIA

Premier Lenine Grants Them Concession To Operate a Big Iron Works

Moscow, Russia, March 17.—William D. Haywood, heads an American group of I. W. W. men to whom Premier Lenine has granted a concession to operate a big iron works in the Ural mountain regions, part of the coal mines in the Kuznetsk basin and auxiliary factors. Haywood disappeared from the United States last year while under $65,000 bail after he and about 60 other I. W. W.'s had been convicted of espionage and conspiracy against the government. It has since taken some part in the deliberations of the Third International at Moscow.

It is stipulated that 8,400 fully qualified Americans with a technical personnel will be brought to Russia to operate the properties and that each of them must purchase $100 worth of tools or instruments and sign a promise to observe all the rules of the Soviet labor post.

The announcement states that the government has assigned $300,000 for financing the undertaking and is also to provide work to build homes for workers and assign 27,000 acres of land for agriculture. The agreement is to hold for two years.

Eighty Pounds of Ambergris, Worth Fortune

FOR A CONSTIPATED CHILD

A small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will bring quick relief.

MOTHER, when one of the children is constipated are you going to give the first laxative within reach? It is dangerous to do so. Some have been known to rupture the intestines of little children. Don't be beguiled by the outside sugary appearance. Look into the formula. Calomel is seldom necessary; salts, minerals, coal tar, never!

will find it is not necessary to take it every day, nor to increase the dose, and that it is pleasant to the taste. Bottles can be had at all drug stores, and the cost is only about a cent a dose. Have no hesitancy giving it to a baby in arms. It is absolutely safe.

Unlike these, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is admirable for children, as it is for grown people, too. Mothers have been giving it to children for 30 years. They know it does not gripe, and is free from narcotics. The formula is on every package, and you can see it is vegetable, just a combination of Egyptian Senna and other laxative herbs with pepsin. Use it yourself and you been sent to New York for chemical analysis in the hope that it may be the sperm-whale concretion which is valued at $28 an ounce.

Flint said that shortly after he discovered the mass on the rocks below his light-house, a dead whale was thrown up on the shore and some substance similar to that which he had discovered, was found in the mammal.

MAY ABOLISH CREMATORIES TO SAVE COAL

Berlin, March 17.—Germans are talking of abolishing crematories in order to save coal. Letter writers have been carrying on a campaign in the Berlin newspapers protesting against this method of disposing of the dead as a waste of fuel. In the Berlin district last year 4,762 bodies were cremated.

A defender of cremation advocates doing away with crematories as a menace to the health of the people. He suggests that as Germany is short of farming land all these plots should be utilized for agricultural purposes.

DANCING FROCKS BRIGHT

By Marian Hale
New York, March 17. — Dancing frocks are taking yards and yards of material unto themselves and have something of an air of Spain and romance about them.
As the season progresses they are leaving the blackness and the whiteness of the winter and are going into brilliant hues which verily vie with summer sunsets.
Kirts are plainly lengthening, too. This Claire frock, when Milady drops the bouffant skirts from her finger tips, reaches quite to the ankle and falls in lovely frilly lines.

The upper part of the taffeta shirt is a brilliant rose tone, the lower part is black. And where the two colors meet one finds an interesting and exceedingly puffed fluting. A bit of Spanish lace trails across the plain rose colored bodice, veiling one shoulder and a part of the arm. The lace is caught at the waist line with a cluster of handsome roses.

Bismarck Boys

In the Young Men's basketball league games last Saturday Lawrence Kostitzky's Rough Riders won from Harold Yeasley's Huskies by one point only. The final score was 9 to 8. Ed O'Hare's Cyclone quintette triumphed over his brother John's clashing five by the score of 5 to 3.

In tomorrow morning's games the Rough Riders clash with the Cyclone quintette and the Huskies meet the clashing five.

At 10:30 the Pioneer groups will compete in games and athletics.

The Congress or Older Boys will meet as usual Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. On Monday night at the Funeral Services Are Held For Mrs. Wagner of Steele

The funeral for Mrs. H. B. Wagner, who died at her home at Sterling Monday, was held from the Methodist church there today. Mrs. Wagner had been ill only a few days and the news of her death came as a shock to her many friends.

She was born in Iowa and was 34 years old. She leaves her husband and two small children, Hazel and Orville, to mourn her loss.

A sister, Miss Bertha Durkes, arrived Sunday from Dallas Center, Iowa, and Mrs. Wagner's parents arrived for the funeral today.

Rev. Lewis G. Sterling officiated at the services. Mrs. J. P. French and Mrs. Charles Staley of this city sang. A number of Bismarck people went to Sterling this morning to attend the funeral.

YOUR IMAGINATION
The prehistoric monster, reported prowling in the Patagonian swamps, is described as not more than 40 feet long, with lengthy neck and tail on an elephant-sized body.

If captured, many would pay $5 to see it. The financial possibilities are enough to bring P. T. Barnum, and Tody Hamilton, his master press agent, back from the dead.

The blue whale, largest creature on earth, is 90 feet long and weighs 75 tons at maturity. It is several times as large as the Patagonian monster, yet few would pay 10 cents to see it in the ocean where it exists by thousands.

From this, learn that life is boring, that people are interested in the unusual, the exceptional.

Offer people something they haven't got, or do the old thing in a unique way, and you can name your own price.

Barnum's circus had wonderful horses doing the heavy work outside the tent. Few except farmers gave them a second glance.

The crowd, however, fought to get into the side-show to see "A horse with its head where its tail ought to be." That promised the unusual, something to break the monotony. In exchange for their dimes, the spectators merely saw a horse, hitched with its tail in the manger.

They "took it good-naturedly," for the experience gave what they were after, though in unexpected form—a good laugh.

Are you a student of psychology—human nature? If so, much food for thought in a blue whale arousing less interest than the smaller Patagonian lizard-monster.

Man is most curious about things that do not exist, or that he doubts the existence of. The things that excite us most usually are imaginary.

How often have you become "all het up" about some imaginary thing, only to find that it doesn't exist, that you heard the facts incorrectly or had the wrong idea?

The appeal of imagination is so strong that people strain their gullibility, attempting to turn the imaginary into the real.

Be thankful for that. It is what makes progress. Man learned to walk on his hind legs, and gradually turned his fore legs into arms, according to evolutionists.

That was an achievement. But a few men among the many imagined they could fly like the bird. That imagination has been turned into fact—the flying machine.

GOLD
The South African revolt, killing hundreds, originated in a dispute over how much labor is to get as its share in the mining of gold. Wherever there's gold, there's trouble.

To obtain gold, men freeze to death in Klondike, perish of thirst in the desert. Gold is the greatest destroyer of woman's virtue and man's honor. The universal desire for it creates the greed that has made man more cruel and vicious than any animal.

Lust for gold is back of tenements, starvation and other forms of poverty.

This is the thing for which men sell their souls. Yet gold is valuable only in man's imagination, and for most practical purposes is about the most worthless substance on earth. You cannot eat gold, nor can it keep you warm. No man can carry it beyond the grave, yet it is the emperor of civilization.

VALUES
Advancing prices in 90 days have added $1,049,000,000 to grain and livestock held by farmers. This is the estimate of Everett C. Brown, president of the National Live Stock Exchange.

Yet the actual grain and livestock are the same as they were 90 days ago. It's like railroad stocks, which rise and fall though there's no change in the railroad itself.

Values are largely imaginary, depending on how much is bid by holders of the low hands.

CHIMNEYS
Gold which escapes from melting pots and vanishes up the chimneys of the government's assay office in New York is being recovered by an apparatus on top of the chimney.
The saving probably will not exceed several thousand dollars a year. But there's much rejoining, because the thing that is being saved is gold, the hypnotist.

Out of each 2,000 pounds of coal mined, only 76 pounds are actually converted into mechanical energy. The rest of the heat value is lost, mostly up the chimney. If gold were escaping instead of energy, inventors soon would stop the waste.

PAYING
If we want to continue exporting to Great Britain, which normally takes a fourth of our exports, we must accept goods instead of money in payment. So says Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador at Washington.
Imports have their objections. But, having cornered the majority of the world's gold, we must barter goods for goods. Either that, or retire from foreign trade, or trust customers forever.

WIZARDRY
A flying airplane talks to a racing auto, by radio-telephone. This is at Farmingham, Mass.
The connection was so good that the motorist even heard the air-pilot's teeth chatter.
This tells you something of the accuracy of the wireless wave. It is man's greatest conqueror of space and location, messages flying true to their mark despite constant and rapid shifting of position by sender and receiver.
A power like that has tremendous possibilities for practical things.

BUGGIES
If you think the young folks are going to rack and ruin, take heart from an article circulated by the social morality department of the W. C. T. U.

The writer suggests that auto joyriders are not worse than the previous generation that took buggy rides by moonlight. Also, that dancing cheek-to-cheek had a counter-part in the old-time kissing game, "postoffice."

Babies are born just as pure now as they ever were. What they develop into depends on parents. It is the older generation, not the young one, that needs a shake-up.

WASTE
Inefficient operating methods cause a loss of more than $100,000,000 a year to American hospitals. This is estimated in Chicago at a conference of hospital experts.

You hear the same charges about every other branch of human activity, whenever there's a national trade conference.

Exaggerated? Possibly. But they emphasize the possibility of economy. Our natural resources have been drained—in some cases, like forests, are near extinction. The key to future wealth is the elimination of waste and duplication of energy.

RENT
Prohibition Commissioner Haynes says there'll be no floating bar-rooms just beyond the three-mile ocean limit if he can stop it.

An odd angle to this is that the floating bar-room has no rent to pay. Could the system be widely used to beat the landlord?

Grocery stores on wheels, visiting homes with stocks of goods, have been tried out in many cities. Those that have failed in this venture say failure was due to the housewife's objection to neighbors knowing what she was ordering for her family. In shopping at a store, there's more privacy, no general convention of neighbors.

The governor of Kansas says March 22 will be no-tobacco day. Perhaps he can hum a little, though.

PUBLICITY FOR BAD PLAYS
Proposed submission of all alleged salacious plays to an extra-legal jury, which is being considered in New York, would be the finest device to get publicity for border-line shows yet invented. It is planned by the producers, with the co-operation of certain organizations interested in purifying the stage, to have a jury of twelve, chosen out of a panel of 300, see and vote on all questionable performances. The managers agree to withdraw the play or to delete the objectionable portions, without further contest, if it is condemned by a vote of nine to three. What a grand advertisement it would be to announce that a show had been pronounced bad by eight jurors and it had escaped condemnation by only one vote.

The authors, producers and managers can keep their plays clean, if they so desire. They need no jury to decide whether a word, a line, a scene or a plot is so plainly suggestive of evil that it might as well be blatantly set forth. They know whether a performance has real merit or whether it is simply indecent. Channing Pollock of the Dramatists' league, says there are only four or five salacious plays now being exhibited. By that admission there is no need of any jury to declare those shows unfit.

Neither this jury plan nor an official censorship is necessary. The police have power in any city to suppress a manifestly indecent exhibition and prosecute the exhibitors. When there is doubt, the courts are open, with full authority to judge and determine the question.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

MANDAN NEWS

Lady Foresters Meet with Mrs. Thorpe

Members of St. Ann's Court No. 460, the Lady Foresters, were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Fred Thorpe, at her home with Mrs. H. H. Williams assisting. The annual election of officers was held; Mrs. William McCormick being chosen as Chief Ranger for the coming year. The other officers were as follows: Mrs. Ed. Steinbrueck, vice chief ranger; Mrs. Charles McAllister, recording secretary; Mrs. H. S. Schulte, financial secretary; Mrs. Al. Farr, treasurer; Mrs. M. Lead and Mrs. Ed. Knudsen, conductors; Mrs. S. Bieden and Mrs. Mary Schantz, sentinels. Following election and business session, refreshments were served. The installation of officers will take place at the first meeting in April when the court will be entertained at the home of Mrs. McCormick.

Central School Team Wins Game

The Central school eighth grade basketball team defeated the New Salem high school five in the high school gym here by a score of 22 to 11, decisively making up for the defeat administered at New Salem in a prior game. Fred Wirtz, forward, scored 15 of the 22 points for the local juniors. The rest of the team was composed of Albert Herner, forward; Albert Long, center and captain; Edwin Federer and Ernest Reynolds, guards, and Francis Reynolds, substitute. The New Francis team was composed of Edge and Reider, forwards; Bartell, center, and Altenburg and Schwartz, guards. William Gussner, high school star, refereed the game.

Over 100 last evening enjoyed to the utmost the unique barn dance given at the Masonic hall under the direction of the blue lodge entertainment committee. The Mandan orchestra furnished the music. All chairs had been removed and bales of straw ranged along the sides of the hall served as seats. A half dozen horse blankets, several sets of harness, auction sales posters, political announcements, live chickens, turkeys, not to mention a goat were used to create the barn il-lusion. Sweet apple cider and dough nuts were served as refreshments. Practically all the dancers dressed in what they conceived to be the approved styles in Hicksville. The affair scored a tremendous hit.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts
"Oh, oh!" cried Nancy. "Pull hard, Nick. Pull as hard as you can."
"I did," answered Nick, giving another tug, "but it's no use. The harder I pull away the more the feather seems to hold me. I wish I'd listened to Pim Pim. He told me not to touch anything on the Electric Mountain."
It was true. The big magnet, shaped like a horseshoe, held the red feather (which was steel, as you know, being a quill out of the furious falcon) as though it were glued to it, and, in turn, Nick's fingers were sticking as hard to the red feather.
"You'll have to take the record, Nancy, and go on alone to the Land of the Diddycrivers. I'll have to stay here."
"I won't go without you," declared Nancy. "And so for a while it looked as though the adventures of the Twins had come to a sudden end and they would spend the rest of their lives on the top of the Electric Mountain with the crimson wires spitting out electric sparks all about them. But suddenly the feather dropped to the ground.
"Well, I declare!" said an astonished voice. "I've lost my temper." The voice was so good-natured that the Twins were puzzled at the words.

TRESPASSERS

(Letters to Lovers)
By WINONA WILCOX
"The world needs a new morality," writes a girl. "I am madly in love with a married man. He loves me, but unless we break the laws, we must remain perfectly wretched. He has no possible cause for divorce. But our love has its right"—etc., etc.
Those who consider the old morality still workable for the general and individual good will appreciate another letter which shows what too-romantic husband yields to forbidden charms.
"I have seen many complaints from girls who love married men and who swear they can't live without another woman's husband, but never have I seen one from a young mother who has been cheated.
"I am such a wife and mother. My experience probably is about the average.
"Eighteen months after my marriage, my husband left me for a girl. She had fallen in love with him to such an extent that she went out of her way to meet him daily. She was young and innocent, he thought, and man-like he was flattered and finally succumbed.
"Now the girl knew the stork was on his way to our house, but that made no difference to her. We belonged to the same social set, and if ever she saw me and my husband together she would scheme to make him leave me and go to her. Everybody noticed.
"But my husband would not let me refer to her. He said I was jealous of people's shoes and pins and buttons. When their shoes and clothes fall to pieces they can't go on and have to return. And if anyone touches me he can't let go. You're lucky! You see, my power ran out today. That's what I mean by losing my temper."

EVERETT TRUE

OH, EVERETT, I'VE GOT SOMETHING TO TELL YOU!!
WELL, WHAT IS IT? I WANT TO GET THIS NEXT TRAIN.
—THAT WAS BEFORE THE MIDDLE OF SEPTEMBER!
—WAIT A MINUTE, THAT ISN'T ALL—
I'VE GOT TO TELL YOU THE REST OF IT—
ALL RIGHT—TELL ME ON THE TRAIN!!!
The cartoon depicts a man in a suit and hat running towards a train, while a woman in a dress and hat follows him, holding a bag. The man is shouting "OH, EVERETT, I'VE GOT SOMETHING TO TELL YOU!!" and the woman is responding "WELL, WHAT IS IT? I WANT TO GET THIS NEXT TRAIN." The man then says "—THAT WAS BEFORE THE MIDDLE OF SEPTEMBER!" and the woman replies "—WAIT A MINUTE, THAT ISN'T ALL—". The man continues "I'VE GOT TO TELL YOU THE REST OF IT—" and the woman shouts "ALL RIGHT—TELL ME ON THE TRAIN!!!". The man is running away from the woman, who is chasing him.

BY CONDO

Today's word is AUTONOMY. It's pronounced—aw-ton-oh-mi, with accent on the second syllable. It means—self-government, independence, right of a nation to rule itself, freedom from foreign rule. Comparison words—autonomous, autonomist. It's used like this: "India's desire for autonomy seems likely to lead to a serious crisis."

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

If any man will do His will, he shall know of the doctrine.—John 7:17.
You cannot see the distant heaven. You cannot hear the songs of angels. You cannot even say assuredly that you know the love of God. But you do know that to be brave and true and pure is better than to be cowardly and false and foul.—Phillips Brooks.

TWENTY YEARS OF DYSPEPSIA QUICKLY ENDED

"The Benefits I Have Received From Tanlac Were Simply A Revelation To Me," Declares Milwaukee Woman.

"The benefits I have received from Tanlac have been a revelation to me as to what the right medicine can do," said Mrs. Leonora Lym, 1428 Villet St., Milwaukee, Wis.
"For ten years I had stomach trouble, of the worst sort and nobody knows how I suffered during all that time. Sometimes way in the night I would wake up with a smothering sensation and would have to get up and walk the floor in order to get my breath. For a long time I lived on toast and water, almost starving myself in hope that I would get better, but I just went from bad to worse and I was on the verge of despair."
"I have only taken two bottles of Tanlac, but I can eat most anything I want, sleep soundly every night, and have gained wonderfully in strength. My friends tell me I look like a different person."
"Tanalac is sold in Bismarck by Joseph Breslow and by leading druggists everywhere."

PRACTICE REQUIRED IN HANDLING TOOLS

Gardener Knows How to Manipulate Spade or Fork.

Soil is Carefully Cut in Thin Slices and Clods Broken Up as Work Goes On—English and French Are Ahead of Us.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There is an art in handling a spade or spading fork and it is only the gardener who knows this art who gets his garden soil in the best possible condition. A great many gardeners have an idea that the only thing necessary is to work the surface up into huge chunks and then pound these into pieces with the back of a hoe, but, says the United States Department of Agriculture, the gardener who really knows how, spades his soil very carefully, cutting it in thin slices to the full depth of the spade, then breaking up each spadeful as he goes, using the edge of the spade or spading fork for breaking the clods.

No matter how much work is done on the surface a poor job of spading can never be remedied and, while the surface may be loose and mellow the underlying soil will be rough and cloddy so that vegetables planted upon it will not do well. A good plowman turns over the furrows evenly and of uniform depth. The same principle holds in spading, and the spadefuls should be of uniform thickness and depth and every one be turned evenly.

The gardeners of England and France are far ahead of our American gardeners in the matter of soil preparation, and we could well learn a lesson from them. In preparing their land for planting they fork it over very carefully and mix with the soil considerable quantities of manure. This mixing, however, is so well done that the manure disappears in the soil and becomes an intimate part of it. There are no slipshod methods in the work of these English and French gardeners and they are enabled to grow more on an acre than some American gardeners grow on five acres. A little land well prepared, the Department of Agriculture believes, is better than a large area improperly fitted. Get the habit of doing things well, it pays in the long run.

GET EARLY CABBAGE PLANTS

They Can Be Grown Indoors or Shipped in From Points in Warm Climates.

Early cabbage plants for setting in the garden can be procured in two ways, suggests the United States Department of Agriculture. They can either be locally grown indoors by some plant grower, or they can be shipped in from a southern point where the climatic conditions are such that the plants can be grown in the open ground. Plants grown out-of-doors are often advertised as "frost-proof" plants. While this term is rather misleading, the plants are really very hardy and will withstand considerable cold. The great difficulty with cabbage grown in greenhouses, hotbeds or in the home is that they are soft and easily injured either by wind or cold when set in the garden. This difficulty, however, can be to a considerable degree overcome by properly hardening the plant to outside conditions before setting them in the garden.

PLANT EARLY IRISH POTATOES

Put Them in Ground Just Before Time for Last Spring Frost to Get Good Start.

Early Irish potatoes may be planted a little before or about the time the last spring frosts occur. This will give them an opportunity to make a start and reach the surface of the ground by warm weather. Irish potatoes require frequent cultivation and should be gradually hilled up to form a bed. Large quantities of manure should not be used. Great care should be taken to avoid seed affected by scab, as this disease develops rapidly and greatly injures the quality.—United States Department of Agriculture.

THE BIGGEST BOY

THE "Biggest Boy" is not at home—He "saw the nest" last night. I knew the day was bound to come, And yet tears dim my sight. The "Biggest Boy" has said goodbye. And gone to play his part On life's grim battlefield, and I Am lone and sad of heart.

The "Biggest Boy" said "Goodbye Dad!" And "Dad" said, "Goodbye, son!" And then the boy with head erect, Went forth—his work begun. And over in the corner there "Dad's" eyes will fall upon The "Biggest Boy's" now vacant chair. And miss the boy that's gone.

The "Biggest Boy" wiped back a sob When on his lips was pressed. The little mother's goodbye kiss. When mother's hands caressed. And then he smiled and went his way To fight and win, or die; While "Dad" and mother could but say, "God bless you, son; goodbye!"

The "Biggest Boy" is in the ranks. Of that great fighting band That seeks by arts of toil and peace To uphold this fair land. And "Dad" and mother fondly hope As only parents can; The "Biggest Boy" will do his part. And do it like a man.

MARKETS
MODERATE NEW UPTURNS.
Chicago, March 17.—Moderate new upturns in the price of wheat took place here early today, the chief factor being higher quotations at Liverpool. Reports that emphasized the smallness of European stocks of breadstuffs tended also to lift values. The opening which ranged from 3-8 to 7-8 cents higher were followed by slight additional gains and then something of a reaction.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK.
Chicago, March 17.—Cattle receipts, 3,500. Active. Hog receipts, 23,000. Fairly active, mostly 5 to 10 cents lower. Sheep receipts, 7,000. Slow, about steady.

ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK.
St. Paul, March 17.—Cattle receipts, 1,400. Slow, generally steady.

Best beef steers today, $7.25 to $7.50. Bulk common and medium beef steers, $6 to $7. Few down to $5.75. Few seriously choice butcher heifers, $7.25. Better offerings young cows and heifers handyweights, $6 to $7. Bulk butcher cows and heifers, $3.75 to $5.50. Stockers and feeders, mostly steady. Commonest kinds, $4.50 to $5. Bulk, $5 to $6. Good and choice offerings up to $7. Calves receipts, 1,100. Steady. Few extra choice vealers, 75 cents to $7. Practical packer top best lights, $6.50. Seconds largely, $2.50 to $1.50.

Hog receipts, 4,500. Mostly steady. Range, $8 to $10. Bulk, $9.50 to $10. Good plus, $10.

Sheep receipts, 400. Steady to strong. Two loads good fed western lambs, $5.25; no fat ewes here.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR.
Minneapolis, March 17.—Flour unchanged to 2c cents higher. In carload lots, family packets quoted at $8 a barrel. Shipments, 53,252 barrels. Bran, $26.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN
Minneapolis, March 17.—Wheat: Receipts, 133 cars, compared with 293 cars a year ago.

WAR DEPT. CAN THROW NO LIGHT ON "J. MORE"

Supposed to Have Been a Member of Co. D. In Some Regiment In Regular Army in '73

WAS KILLED BY INDIANS?

Keepers of the "Old Records" section of the War Department Archives have been unable to throw light upon the identity of the writer of a note, found in a cave of the rocks high up on the Medicine Pole Hills in the highlands of the Little Missouri river in the southwest corner of North Dakota. The note, which was found in the bottom of an old briar pipe was signed J. More and told of the writer having been lost from Company D, of having been wounded by the Indians, of having left his valuables under a certain rock and of the certainty that death would overtake the penman. The note was dated June 17, 1873.

The Associated Press in North Dakota sent the information in the note to the War Department asking if it was possible from their records to identify the writer. The War Department sent the request to the archives for investigation in the "Old Records" department. The result of the search is given in the following answer:

"Such a search of the records of this office as it is practicable to make from the data has resulted in failure to identify a record relating to a soldier named J. More or Moore, who was a member of Company D or any regiment of the Regular Army in 1873 and died or was killed or was reported missing at or near the southwest corner of the present state of North Dakota, on or about June 17, 1873."

"On May 7, 1873, the 7th Infantry, Company B and C of the 6th Infantry and some Indian scouts participated in a skirmish with Indians at or near Fort A. Lincoln, Dakota (near the present Bismarck, N. D.) and from the 15 to the 17th of June, 1873, the 17th Infantry and Companies B and C, 6th Infantry, were engaged with Indians at that place. Fort A. Lincoln was about 200 miles from the place of the finding of the note. The 9th Infantry, including Company D, on June 30, 1873, left Fort Rice, Dakota, which is now the town of Fort Rice, North Dakota, on the Missouri River in Morton county, on the so-called Yellowstone Expedition into the Yellowstone country, and together with troops that left for Fort Lincoln at the same time established a supply depot near Glen-

MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH "CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP"

Even a sick child loves the "fruit" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation, poison, sour bile and waste from the tender little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup

JUNIORS SCORE IN PRESENTING '22 CLASS PLAY

"Wrong Mr. Wright" Given By Good Cast at City Auditorium Last Night

MANY LAUGHS IN PLAY

The annual junior class play given by the junior class of the Bismarck high school was staged at the auditorium last evening. The class put on "The Wrong Mr. Wright," an original three act comedy by George Broadhurst.

The action of the first two acts of the play takes place in the hotel parlor, the third act in a park near the drill grounds. The play portrays the trials of Seymour Sites, whose cashier has robbed him through forgery, and Bailey, the cashier, both assumed the name of Wright. Sites comes to Old Point Comfort upon word that Bailey is to be there. Here he meets his niece and nephew, Julia and Fred Bonds.

Julia, in order to find a man who is

Burke as David Clews, the fearless detective caused a great many laughs by his sudden appearances in the last act and his hasty exit. William Ankerman and Lester Elness were effective as the two policemen. A solo dance by Miss Dorothy Landers, during the second act, was a distinct feature of the play. The cast of the play: Front, who "runs" the hotel—Richard Penwarden. Frederick Bonds, Sites' nephew—Donald Jones. Wayland Clingstone, one of the boys of long ago—Robert Birdzell. Captain Crosby, stationed at Fortress Monroe—Paul Goddard. Arabella Clingstone, an unappreciated angel—Dale Presley. David Clews, a fearless detective—Jack Burke. Policemen—William Ankerman, Lester Elness.

The Housewife's Soliloquy

"Well, tomorrow will be Sunday, and I must prepare for our Sunday dinner, but, what's the use of worrying, I'll just go down to Brown & Jones Grocery Store, where I can choose from their stock anything that the most fastidious, epicure could desire, as their stock is always replete with seasonable and unseasonable Fruits and Vegetables, such as Strawberries, Kumquats, Oranges, Grape Fruit, Apples, Bananas, Figs, Dates, Cauliflower, Cabbage, Celery Cabbage, Tomatoes, Cucumbers, Rhubarb, Shallots, Beets, Carrots, Spinach, Head Lettuce, Celery, etc. Besides that they have a demonstration of that popular—18K brand of canned goods, and Sunshine products, where if you purchase any wafers or crackers, they present you with a package of those nice crisp Takhoma biscuits! And coffee, oh yes? The Chase & Sanborn or Newell's Extra, both of which Husband is so fond of."
